THE WITCH'S PATE.

A Cruel Prejudice of Old Times More Than Equalled Now.

Not many decades ago in this country the people were excited over witcheraft. Persons suspected were thrown into the water; if not witches, they would drown; if they were witches, they would awim ashore and would be put to death! In any event they were doomed. Not many years ago if a person were taken sick with advanced disorder of the kidneys the physician would pronounce the disease bright's disease, and when so declared he regarded his responsibility at an end, for medical authority admitted that the disease was incurable.

ical authority almitted that the disease was incurable.

When the physician found a patient thus afflicied he would say, "Oh, a slight attack of the aldneys; will be all right in a little while." He have to the contrary. But if he could keep his patient on his hands for a few months he knew he would derive a great revenue from his case, and then, when the disease had progressed to a certain stage, he would state the facts and retire, exonerated from all blame.

But the error of supposing the disease incurable has swayed the public mind long after the fact has ceased to be. But public opinion has been educated to the true status of the case by those who have discounted the opinion has been educated to the true status of the case by those who have discounted the incurability theory, and the public recognizes and test flos to the fact that Warner's safe cure is a specific for this disease. This has been shown with thousands of testimontals.

Upon referring to them in our files we find that $5,000 reward will be given to any one who can prove that so far as the manufacturers know they are not genuine, and that hundreds of thousands similar in character could be published if it were necessary.

dreds of thousands similar in character could be published if it were necessary.

This condition of things is very amusing to the journalist, who looks upon all sides of every question. Proof should be accepted by all, but prejudice fights proof for many years. It seems strange that when a proprietary medicine is doing the good that Warner's safe cure is that the physicians do not publicly induces it. Many of them, we are told, privately prescribe it. prescribe it.

A few years ago, as stated, when a man had Bright's disease, the doctor boldly announced it, because he thought it relieved him of re-it, because he thought it relieved him of responsibility.

To-day when prominent people are dying fand hundreds of thousands of common people die of the same disease), we are teld that doctors disgnise the fact that it is Bright's disease of the kidneys, and say that they die of paralysis, of apoplexy, of pneumonia, of consumption, of general debility, of rheumatism, of heart disease, of blood poisoning, or some other of the names of the direct effects of kidney disease. They are not the real disease itself.

We sometimes wonder if they avoid stating the real cause of disease for fear they will drive the public into patronage of the only scientific proprietary specific for kidney diseases and the thousand and one diseases that originate in inactive kidneys.

We do not believe every advertisement we read. Some people perhaps may regard this article as an advertisement and will not believe it, but we are candid enough to say that we believe the parties above mentioned bave stated their case and proved it, and under such circumstances the public is unwise if it is longer influenced by adverse prejudice.

Practical Education.

You can always tell a college boy by his conversation. He quotes too much classics for a sculler without knowing enough for a scholar. When quoting Latin he reminds me of a child with a new toy. General education is a good thing. That's why I'm opposed to colleges. The boy who can go through coilege without forgetting how to speak English and without learning how to bang his hair is sure to make his mark. He has a solid kernel about him somewhere. Some colleges teach their boys how to play Greek comedies. If they would only turn out a few good American actors they would be blessed by a long-suffering public. I will put the boy who has a knowledge of Webster against the one who knows all the dead languages ever bur ed every day in the South. Northern farmers, unsequainted with week and let him rest on Sunday.— sugar-cane and cotton growing, have asked Philadelphia Call.

Wretched, Indeed,

Are those whom a confirmed tendency to billousness, subject to the various and changeful symptoms indicative of liver complaint, names, sick hondache, constipation, furced tongue, an unpleasant breath, a dull or sharp pain in the neighborhood of the affected organ, impurity of the blood and less of appetite, signalize is as one of the most distressing, as it is one of the most common, of maladies. There is, however, a benign specific for the dossass and all its unpleasant manifestations. It is the concurrent testimony of the public and the medical profession that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a medfeine which achieves rosu to speedily felt thorough, and benign. Besides rectifying liver dis-order, it invigorates the feeble conquers kid-ney and binder complaints, and hastens the convaluecense of these recovering from enfec-ling diseases. Moreover, it is the grand specific for fever and ague.

THE Michigan Central Railroad is preparing to build ferry-boats that will run, winter and summer, across the Straits of Mackinac. Of course, there is much ice there in winter, and to get through the ice each boat will have a screw-wheel at each end, the starn wheel to have one-third greater power than the bow wheel. When running through comparatively clear water or smooth ice the bow wheel will pull and the stern wheel will push. Its crushing power will be immense, and its projectors say that it will walk through ice two or 24 feet thick with perfect ease. When it meets the great floes. so common in the Straits, it is expected that the front screw will push the boat back and the rear screw will push her ahead. The greater strength of the rear screw will push the boat up against the floe, while the powerful currents circling ahead from the front screw will wash a passage in the floe and allow the ferry-boat to run through.

"The Newsboy's Ward."

A charming story with the above title will be commenced in the Chicago Ledger of March 16, from the pen of M. C. Farley, and will be continued for about three months. The plot is woven about the commission of a murder, and the detection of the assassin many years afterward. The daughter of the murdered man was lost in the streets of Chicago, and adopted and cared for by a bright specimen of the newsboy fra-ternity. We would advise those who like to read a first-rate story to subscribe for the Ledger, at $1.50 a year. Send to the Ledger Company, 271 Franklin street, Chicago, for sample copy, with first installment of "The Newsboy's Ward," which will be sent Justice Was Satisfied.

The chief of the Cherokee Indians is named Mackintosh. I sm told that Mackintosh's sense of justice is unusually just, but crude in its method of expression and execution. Once upon a time, under the rule of the gentle Mackintosh, a Cherokee Indian stole a horse. The horse disappeared about the same time as the suspected Indian.
The evidence was circumstantial, and it was with grave doubts that the "Mackintosh" sentenced the accused to twenty lashes and a term of imprisonment, After the lashes, and during the imprisonment, it was found out that another Indian, who had been the principal witness against the man, was the real thief. He was sentenced to execution and executed. Then it came to the consideration of the case of the Indian who had been punished for a crime he did not commit. Leng and arduously did the chief study over the problem of recompense. At last the Indian was sent for, and the Mackintosh, with a beam of satisfaction, expressed his regret for the mistake, and "Now you go and steal a horse." And justice was satisfied.

To Southern Home Seekers.

The advance in price of Western lands, the increased severity of Northern winters, and the consequent high price of fuel, has turned the attention of farmers, home-seekers, and others of delicate constitution to the mild elimate, cheap fuel, and low-priced lands of the South, Northern farms, managements with stock-raising be made to pay in the South? To discuss these questions, so important to those socking homes in the South, agricultthose seeking homes in the South, agricultural conventions have been held of late in Tounessee, Mississippi, and Louisiana, and it has been proven beyond a doubt that diversified farming can be carried on in the South even fied farming can be earried on in the South even more profitably than in the North. Lands are being seeded down, creameries built, and Northern methods of farming quite generally introduced. The result of all this has turned the tide of emigration Southward, and the Illinois Central Railroad, the direct line between Chicago and New Orleans, and the direct route to the principal markets of the South, West, and North, have shown their confidence in the agricultural possibilities of the South by naming the following convenient land points, viz: Jackson, Tenn.; Aberdeen and Jackson, Miss., and Hammond, La. These points have been selected as a convenience to connecting lines in the sale of round-trip tekets. Stop-over privileges will round-trip t ckets. Stop-over privileges will be granted at all other points south of Martin, Tenn., and we are free to state that just as good and just as cheap lands can be bought at other than the points above mentioned.
